

Every week I go to church not only for Jesus, but also to socialize with friends. A lot of people come from different places and have other interests, but we can connect through our Việt backgrounds.

I have made new friends through CCD, Việt Ngữ, and Thiệu Nhi Thánh Thể. Many activities have brought all of us together. But the one time all of us connect is during Tết.

Most of the time we celebrate Tết one way or another. We celebrate Tết together as a community, and other Việt people come to celebrate with us. People who aren't Việt also come to learn about our beautiful culture. Not only do we make friends, but our parents also make friends.

Tết is a happy time and celebration for us people who are Việt, and I'm glad that I get to celebrate with my friends. We should be proud we are Việt, and show off our culture.
